CONGRESS PROGRAM

Gathering Will be the Most Important Ever Held for Arid Land Reclamation.

WARM WELCOME FOR VISITORS.

Conference Will be Honored by a Special Message on Irrigation From The President ..

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 24.-The Eleventh National Irrigation Congress, convening at Ogden, Utah, Sept. 15-18, without question will be the most important convention ever held in America as to irrigation and forestry, and as to agriculture and horticulture under irrigation. It will be remarkably representative of the best thought and practical experience of the west.

The convention will begin its first session, (after an invocation), by the singing of the prize ode to irrigation, written by Mrs. Gilbert McClurg, of Colorado Springs, and sung by the Tabernacle choir of over 200 voices.

FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT. The president of the United States has signally honored the National Irrigation Congress by a special message, pronouncing its work and aims as of vital concern to the nation. Members President Roosevelt's cabinet endorse this congress, and a special mes-sage will be read to the delegates in convention assembled, from Hon. E. A. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior; and the cabinet will be personally represented by Hon. James Wilson, secre tary of agriculture, who will address the convention on questions of agriculture, of horticulture, and forestry, of the semi-arid region. The governor of Utah, the mayor of Ogden, and ex-Senator Frank J. Cannon, will welcome the dele gates to Utah and to Ogden, and president of the congress, Senator W.A. Clark of Montana, will have return ed from Europe in season to preside over the deliberations of the convention and fittingly to respond to the words of welcome and of God-speed uttered.

MEXICO WILL BE THERE.

Mexico will be represented by Lieutenant-Colonel of Engineers Don Ig-nacio Altamira, of the Washington embassy, and other attending foreign rep-resentatives are expected to give the congress international repute.

NEWELL ALSO.

Prominent in the program will be a discussion of the national irrigation law and its application, by Mr. Frederick H. Newell, chief of government irrigation surveys, and addresses will be delivered in this section of the program of which Mr. Newell will act as chair man, by various engineers of the gov-ernment, who will describe and report on the various irrigation work planned and considered as feasible for immedi-ate building, by the federal government, under the reclamation law. Short (10 minute) addresses will be the gen eral rule so as to permit lively discussion after each address.

SUBJECTS OF DISCUSSION.

In the department of irrigation inves-tigations of the government at another session of the congress, short addresses will be presented by experts and sciwill be presented by experts and scientists of prominent reputation, on "Irrigation Investigation," "Economic Phases of Irrigation," "Drainage Investigations," "The Value of the Study of the Duty of Water," and kindred topics. Among speakers in this section will be Dr. W. H. Beal and Clarence T. Johnson Dr. Bichard T. Ely. Park G. V. P. son, Dr. Richard T. Ely, Prof. O. V. P. Stout, J. G. Haney, Prof. Samuel Fortier, C. G. Elliott and Thos. H. Means.

CONGRESIONAL MOTTO.

One of the mottoes of the congress is that "Colonization is Progress," and it has been epigrammatically express-"Let us make an inland empire in sive cultivation of the soil, for land without population is a wilderness, pop-ulation without land is a mob." SALVATION ARMY LEADER.

Commander Frederick Booth-Tucker, the national leader of the Salvation Army, is coming from New York to attend the congress, and to speak on "Colonization," of which he has had valuable, practical experience. Mr. Wantland of Denver acts as chairman of this section of the program and will present a brilliant number of speakers. of railroad presidents and promient officials, governors, senators and congressmen, and prominent men of affairs well known throughout the est, to speak on "Colonization" in its various phases.

Produced," and on "The Soil, Seed, Climate and Culture Essential to the Exmate and Culture Essential to the Excellence of Barley for Brewing," as well as of "Beets for Sugar Production."
Hon. George H. Maxwel, chairman executive committee, National Irrigation association, will deliver an address under the head of "The Victories of Peace," and Hon. Wm. E. Smythe of California, the "Father of the National Irrigation Congress," will address the delegates on "The Influence of Irrigation on the American Ideal."

OTHER SUBJECTS AND PERSO The program of the congress is far rom completed at this writing, but enough strong addresses and papers have ben secured to warrant the proph-ecy that the Eleventh National Irriga-tion Congress will be the most successful, practical and brilliant irrigation congress ever held in the world. Among congress ever held in the world. Among other scientific men, engineers and experts who will join in the discussions are: A. F. Dorcmus, L. J. Carpenter, J. W. Kerr; Chas. D. Marx, J. A. Widstoe, Capt. Hiram M. Chittenden, W. M. Reed, F. H. Brandenburg, W. S. Palmer, R. M. Harding, Arthur P. Davis, Geo. Y. Wisner, J. B. Lippincott, H. A. Storrs, A. L. Fellows, D. W. Ross, L. H. Taylor, N. M. Darton, Cyrus C. Babb, Jno. E. Field, T. A. Noble, Geo. S. Swendson Jno. T. Whistler, Edward A. Bowers, Daniel E. Wilard, Stephen D. Fessender, A. J. McCune, J. A. Betzeman.

A. Betzeman. Capitalists, investors in western lands, rice growers of the south, rep-resentatives from flooded districts along southern rivers, prominent edi-tors, bankers and lawmakers, will speak on practical topics to be announced at a later date. Governors, senators and ngressmen of the semi-arid states and territories generally, will attend the convention.

NATIONAL CHARACTERS. Hon, Fred J. Kiesel, chairman of the executive committee, states that several names of national reputation are to be added to the list of speakers and that while the list seems to be long, that in nearly every instance 10-minute addresses are to be made. "The program will be so arranged," he said, "that free and full discussion may follow each address, for we know that discussion and debate are the life of every congress."

No Substitute Offered.

VIRTUE OF PATIENCE.

The Theme Upon Which Dr. Paden Discoursed at Length Yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Paden preached to a good house last night in the First Presby-terian church from the text, "I. John, who also am your brother and compan-ion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus," Rev. 1: 9. The speaker said that John had learn d that companionship of tribulation is of the innermost secrets of good fellowship. He had come to know that no point of contact is more vital in our human relations than that brought about by hardships endured in common. He had found out that sympathy is the child of companionship and tribulation, love and pain, and that Christ Himself must needs win men's hearts by bearing their griefs and carrying their sorrows. The distinguishing attribute of the Christ of history was His patience, and the special gift of the earthly life of Jesus was His power of patience. He could wait. He could endure, He could restrain Himself. He never lost His self-control, nor squandered His re-serve. He never murmured, never uttered discontent, displeasure of resent-ment. He was never disheartened, ruffled or fretted, but was full of con ruffled or fretted, but was tul of con-fidence that all was well ordered in the providence of His Heavenly Father. No element in the perfect character of Jesus, unless it be love, is given more emphasis than the common of patience. John learned that if the secret of Christ's winsomeness was His sympathy, His patience was the method by which He made that winsome-ness prevail. None of the active virtues are more effective, and one cannot think of a grace or virtue which does not become more gracious when united with patience. There is hardly a fault of character that may not be nay not be foiled by the right use of this grace.

There is another kind of patience which I can only mention-patience with God. We lose patience with His slowness, and yet were it not for His slowness, where should we have been long since? We lose patience with the way He keeps His counsels, and yet a God who could tell us all He knew could hardly command our reverence, We lose patience with God when He sets us hard lessons or crosses the devices and desires of our hearts. Would He be more like an all wise Father If He never denied or disciplined us?
The patience of Jesus was the supreme revelation of the patience of God, and the God of all patience, long suffering. slow to anger, who waits to be ous, and who pitieth as a father pitieth, knowing that we are dust.

YESTERDAY'S RECITAL That Given in Honor of Logan Tabernacle Choir Much Enjoyed.

The special organ recital yesterday fternoon, in honor of the Logan Tabersacle choir, was well attended and act that it was Sunday restrained hose assembled from applauding, but lespite this there was an occasioutburst, evidencing to what extent the ecital was enjoyed by the large audi once. Needless to say, Prof. McClellan was a choice one, those who remained were well paid for the time spent.
